FOURTH RACE.

Harry Payne Whitney's Borrow won the Baratoga Handicap, the third feature of the card, under a masterful ride by Joe Notter. Hedge, which was in a contending position all the way, moved up gradually, and at the head of the stretch, when Fighny resigned his pace-making job, went to the front. She looked a winner here until Notter pulled out of a jam in fourth place and ran over the top of those in front of him. At the end he was an easy winner by a length. Hedge won the place money, two lengths in front of Flying Fairy.

The first race saw the favorite finish outside the money, but there was applause in plenty for the winner, Adelaide T. After kicking up a fuss at the post Buxton got her away on her tose and she was never causht. Azylade chased her only to quit, and so did Some Kid.

Behind these was a constant jam and not until weit into the stretch did the early sufferers get a chance. Pomette Bleu had to fight her way through and at the end she was going great guns. When it was too late she managed, however, to get her heed in front of Andes in the last dosen strides to keep it there to the end, wining the place.

home run. Moran drove one into deep left, which Burns, by fast fielding, held to two bases. On Mollwitz's bounder to Fletcher, Moran was caught in a rundown between second and third. He got back to second safely, Doyle touching Mollthrew his rider, Kermath, who seemed to be seriously hurt. With Winkle far back, Shannon River had no trouble saving the place money.

THIRD RACE.

The red, white and blue of Capt. E. B. Cassatt was carried past the judge's first in the Flash, the two-year-old stake. Trial by Jury won like a good, courageous colt, coming from third position at the head of the atretch to win handly by one and a half lengths. Lady Barbary, who chased the fast breaking Soliy to the stretch, finished Raif a length back under the whip. Solly weakened in the run home after outrunning his field until well around the home turn.

NO RUNS.

Anderson singled past Vandergrift.

Delehanty was hit by pitched ball, Anderson going to second. Warren hit Anderson on back trying to catch him napping off second. The ball rolled into centre field and Anderson went to third, and Delehanty to second. Griggs struck out. McKetchnie speared Evans' liner and touched third before Anderson could get Delehanty to Griggs. La Porte trip-led to the scoreboard and scored after Holt juggled Kaiser's hit. Kaiser was caught stealing. Land to
